

MANE ATTRACTION

Winter winds and cold can damage your hair as well as dry out your skin, but MOP's moisture-rich products can help keep your hair hydrated. Put the MOP C-System Hydrating Shampoo ($29.95) to the test. Its gentle, antioxidant formula has fruit extracts and vitamins to boost your hair's hydration. To lock in moisture and enhance shine, follow with the Glisten Shine Drops ($24.95). If your tresses really need a boost, apply the MOP Extreme Moisture weekly treatment ($25.95). To hold styles in place during windy weather, you can't beat the MOP C-System Firm Finish Spray ($32.95), which will banish frizzy and fly-away problems. The natural fragrances – mango, lime, grapefruit, spearmint and lemon – leave a clean, fresh scent. Stockists, ph: 1800 104 204.

AMAZING GRACE

Hermes' new fragrance will have fashionistas and fans of the beautiful Grace Kelly clamouring to get their hands on it. Inspired by the Hermes deluxe leather Kelly purse and dedicated to Princess Grace, the scent is an intriguing floral with leather notes and an oh-so-chic bottle. $165, 50ml. Stockists, ph: (02) 9663 4277.

CARROTS' TOPS

The Yes to Carrots products combine beta-carotene from veggies, such as carrots, pumpkin and sweet potato, with Dead Sea mud and its restorative properties. Try the Hair and Scalp Moisturising Mud Mask ($21.95, 250ml) for untangled, shiny hair; the Deliciously Rich Body Butter ($21.95, 250ml) for smooth, hydrated skin; and the Lip Butter ($5.95), in five flavours, to protect from the elements. Available from David Jones, Big W, Priceline and pharmacies.

BE FIRM

St. Ives Collagen Elastin Body Moisturiser ($6.99) has been formulated to renew and firm the skin. Hypo-allergenic and dermatologist tested, it has a fresh scent and eases dry, damaged skin. Available from supermarkets and pharmacies. Stockists, ph: (02) 8264 5400.

BEE NATURAL

Give yourself a glow with the new Endota Spa Organic Honey and Rosehip face mask ($55), which saturates the skin while exfoliating dead skin cells. Rosehip and honey smooth skin and boost elasticity, and papaya and jojoba give the mask a refreshing scent and boost vitamin C. Use once a week – apply to damp skin for 10 minutes and rinse with lukewarm water. Endota is an Australian company creating products using local ingredients. Its partnership with Bush Heritage Australia means a portion of profits go to the conservation group. For more information and stockists, visit www.endota.com.au

EYES HAVE IT

Local make-up artist Julia Dickenson has launched her own company specialising in make-up artistry, workshops and, of course, cosmetics. With a selection of custom-designed eye shadows, brow pencils, mascaras and lip colours, Oradess products are made in Europe and New York but won't break the bank. The Lash Confidence Mascara ($37), with its curved wand and light, clump-free formula, has caused a stir among the beauty set. The Eyeshadow Quads ($75 each) make application a breeze – 18 shades to choose from (four per palette). The Longwear Eye Definer ($32, four shades) won't budge without a quality eye make-up remover, and the Precision Eyebrow Pencil ($26) is a must for maximum eyebrow definition. GLOW WITH IT

Nothing says summer more than skin that glimmers with a warm, sun-kissed glow. If you can't get away to a beach in the Northern hemisphere, Estee Lauder's new Bronze Goddess collection can bring a touch of sun into your life. The range includes bronze-kissed colours for lips, face and nails – the limited edition Bronze Goddess SunBlush Illuminator ($72) is a multicoloured, shimmering blush-highlighter that adds a glow to cheeks. The silky, lightweight formula provides a smooth coverage that won't streak or settle into pores and is easy to apply. I also love the limited edition Bronze Goddess Sand & Sea EyeShadow Palette ($78) with six sultry shades. And for nails, try the limited edition Golden Goddess ($36). Available at Estee Lauder counters from Sunday, May 31. Stockists, ph: 1800 061 326. www.esteelauder.com.au
